

MOBILE LEARNING

B.Ed 4th semester

What is Mobile learning?

Mobile learning refers to a subset of E-learning, distance learning .

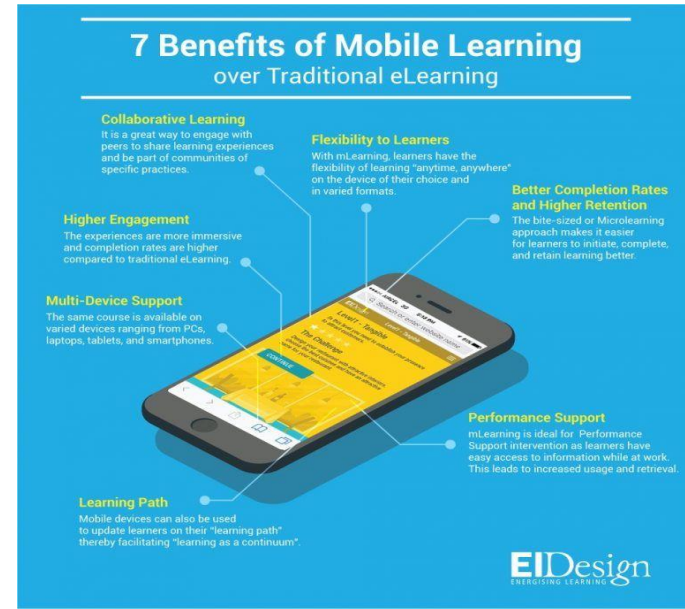

It focuses on learning with the help of mobile technology.

In mobile learning learner can use mobile phone, tablet or PDA.

Leaners can access materials anywhere and anytime using mobile technology.

Advantage of Mobile learning

- It provides easy access and comfort to the learner.
- It is a time saving learning process.
- It provides better learning opportunities at one's own pace with privacy.
- It gives immediate feedback.
- Different types of learning facilities.
- Provides continuous and situated learning.
- Better assessment and diagnosis of leaning problem can be done.
- It is very much cost effective process.

Disadvantages of Mobile learning

- Connection problem.
- Small screen.
- Less memory to record more online content.
- Social distancing
- Technical problem
- Limited bandwidth
- Lower battery life
- Inability to use

Thank you!!!
...

